Introducing the Syba Academy

In 2014 Syba Seminars is extending its professional development programs to include a range of new and exciting programs and a wider range of formats to meet the professional learning needs of teachers and teacher-librarians.

We have renamed our new professional learning services Syba Academy which better reflects the quality and diversity of our services by offering personalised and customised programs to assist teachers and teacher librarians in navigating the new educational landscape.

Syba Seminars has had seven years experience as a professional learning provider, and in July, 2013, gained NSW Institute of Teachers board endorsement as a provider of professional development. This endorsement was to Australian National Teaching Standards. We will become endorsed with other states as soon as accreditation programs are established.

Workshop Program

9.00 - 9.15am

Introduction and Housekeeping

9.15 - 10.30am

Content Curation: Principles & Practice

This session provides an overview of theory, research and practice of content curation. It highlights those aspects of curation where TLs and teachers add intellectual and instructional value to the collection of curated resources. Participants are introduced to a suite of content curation technologies including websites, tools and apps. A range of practical examples of curated collections are used to model effective curation processes and practices.

10.30 - 11.00am

Morning tea

11.00 - 11.30am

Curating topics for the Australian Curriculum: Finding your niche

This session will present ways in which curation sites are being used by TLs and teachers to develop customised portals of digital resources to support the Australian Curriculum. Participants will then be expected to identify two topics from learning areas/grade levels of the Australian Curriculum that require resourcing in their school.

11.30am - 12.30pm

Curation tools: Account creation, features and settings

This is a hands on session where participants are provided with step-by-step guidance in creating and managing curation accounts. Participants are also required to articulate a rationale for the selection of those curation tool(s) they intend to use to curate digital collections for their school, based on the specific needs of their school community and the features and functionality of the selected tools.

12.30 - 1.30pm

Lunch

1.30 - 3.00pm

Go Curate! Building your Collection

This is a hands-on session where participants begin to build digital collections for two Australian Curriculum topics. Participants are provided with individualised instruction while undertaking the curation process.

3.00 - 3.15pm

Sharing Curated Content

Participants' curated collections on Australian Curriculum topics as 'works in progress' are shared and viewed by others.

3.15 - 3.30pm

Lessons Learned: Evaluating the Curation Process

Participants evaluate their curation experience and contribute to a collective list of ideas and advice for future curation tasks.

Meet the speaker

Lyn Hay

Head of Professional Learning, Syba Academy

In 2014 Lyn Hay officially joins the Syba Academy team as the Head of Professional Learning. Her role involves the development of our professional learning program, hosting face-to-face seminars and workshops, presenting at conferences, designing and teaching online extension courses, and facilitating our CLiP it! and PLP programs.

Lyn comes to the Academy with 20 years of working as a lecturer in the School of Information Studies and Flexible Learning Institute Fellow at Charles Sturt University where she has trained thousands of teachers, teacher-librarians, librarians and information technologists at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Lyn's research interests are multifaceted and interdisciplinary, including the impact of school libraries on student learning, TLs as evidence-based practitioners, inquiry learning within a Web 2.0 world, iCentres as learning hubs in schools, digital citizenship and information policy issues, principal-TL partnerships, and education informatics.

Lyn has written a number of journal articles, book chapters and papers, and has presented at numerous conferences both nationally and internationally. Her website <http://studentslearn.wordpress.com/> is where she publishes and curates on a range of education, information and technology topics. You will also find her engaging with her PLN on Facebook, Twitter, Delicious, Scoop It! and Linked In, just to name a few.

Lyn is also the recipient of a number of national and international professional awards including the Teacher Librarian Leadership Award for being a Learning Commons Visionary (2012), the IASL Takeshi Murofushi Research Award (2012), the ASLA Citation (2007), the ASLA(NSW) John Hirst Award (1997), and the IASL/SIRS Commendation Award (1997).

CONSOLIDATING LEARNING IN PRACTICE

Syba Academy's Consolidating Learning in Practice (CLiP) program provides participants with the opportunity to extend the professional learning they gain from attending a Syba Academy seminar, workshop or masterclass.

This involves applying one's new learning in their school and documenting this within one month of attending the network day.

This documentation is then submitted for assessment to receive endorsed credit for those professional learning hours completed.

You can choose to CLiPit when registering for your chosen courses or you can register to CLiPit on the day of the seminar.

Add $199 (plus GST) per course to CLiPit.
